TROOPS AND SETTLERS OVERPOWERED BY

CHIHUAHUA, Mexico, Dec. 27.—A Government military courier brought the news last evening of another outrage in the State of Sonora, of which the warring Indians are the perpetrators. The trouble occurred in the town of Belen, at the foot of one of the ranges in the Sierra Madre Mountains, near the mouth of the Yaqui River. The town of what is claimed by the Yaquis as their domain and all efforts of the Mexican Government to colonize the rich lands of the valley have proved futile.

By an arrangement with the Indians a few Spanish traders took up their residence in Belen a few years ago and have been carrying on a profitable business. Shortly after the terrible massacre of the Tomochic Indians by the Mexican troops in the western part of the State of Chihuahua, about two months ago, the Mexican Government considered that it was now a good time in which to bring the troublesome Yaquis into submission and compel the heavy landowners of the Yaqui River to pay into the general treasury the taxes which the Government had never been able to collect. Detachments of Government troops accompanied several of Government troops accompanied several tax agents to different parts of the Yaqui country, but no successful entrance was made until about ten days ago, when a force of soldiers sailed up the Yaqui River and made a landing near Belen. ANXIETY INCREASING AS TO THE PATE OF THE UMBRIA.

LONDON, Dec. 27 .- There is much anxiety at Lloyd's over the non-arrival in New York of the Cunard steamer Umbria, which sailed from Liverpool on Dec. 17, for Queenstown, sailing from Queenstown for New York on Dec. 18. The Umbria has, therefore, bee out from Queenstown about nine days, which is at least two days in excess of what was expected. The great storms on the Atlantic may, it is thought, have detained the vesse without involving any accident, but the apprehension felt is so serious that reinsuring has already commenced. The Umbria arrived in Liverpool on her previous voyage on Dec. 10, having left New York on Dec. 3.

GENERAL FOREIGN NEWS. CANADIAN OPINION OF THE NEW CANAL

PROJECT.
OTTAWA, Ontarlo, Dec. 27.—A leading Canadian engineer, being asked what he thought of the navigation scheme from Lake Erie to New York, via the St. Lawrence and Lake Champlain, said the expenditure of $100,000,. or $200,000,000 of foreign capital in building a new Welland Canal, new dams and locks on the St. Lawrence and a canal from Valley Field to Richelieu would no doubt be of great benefit to Canada, but he questioned if Parliament would give any corporation power to control navigation on a great waterway like the St. Lawrence. The scheme itself might be feasible enough if not bjectionable on a national or military round. It would certainly divert traffic from the Erie Canal and render useless the Weil-and and St. Lawrence Canals, upon which so much Canadian public money has been expended. It would also take away a great deal of trade from Montreal.

The Cause of Baron Reinach's Sudden and Mysterious Death.

Startling Revelations the Result of the Official Autopsy.

THE POSITION IN WHICH CLEMENCEAU AND ROUVIER ARE PLACED.

An Explosion Eclipsing Anything That Has Yet Occurred Promised in the French Scandal-Report of the Physician Who Examined the Remains of Banker Reinach-Sensational Develop-

PARIS, Dec. 27 .- In the greater excitement ttending the proceedings in the Chamber of Deputies and the revelations compromising so many prominent men in the Panams Canal scandal, sight has been lost to a certain extent of the autopsy of Baron de Reinach, the banker, who raised the funds for the promotion of the Panama conspiracy, whose mysterious death has been attributed to various causes—apoplexy, suicide and murder. The Government having charge of the examination it is consequently slow and is attended with great secrecy.

The startling statement is made to-day in the newspapers of Paris that Dr. Brouardel, who had charge of the post-mortem exami apoplexy was not the cause of the Baron's death. Not only this, but that Baron de Reinach was poisoned, and that the poison was taken into his stomach eight hours be Raron de Reinach The banker supposed to have been poisoned by the that the poison was in his stomach eight hours before his death there would be good reason to believe that this terrible charge against certain men is true, for on the night Rouvier and M. Clemenceau, attempted to secure a cessation of the newspaper attacks that were being made upon him.

It is not at all probable that had Baron De gone to the trouble to attempt to stop attacks that in a few hours would have been nothing to him and neither would be have displayed such feeling as to the result of these attacks. Horrible as it may seem there is no denying the fact that some of those implicated in the scandal would have elt greatly relieved if Baron De Reinach was felt greatly relieved it Baron be keinach was dead and beyond giving evidence that would besmirch their heretofore good names. The fact that the Baron's death was linked to the sudden and mysterious deaths of two other men who were cognizant of the bribery of egislators gives added strength to the demand of the Baron's family that an inquiry

M. Rouvier had explained to him in the lobby of the Chamber that Baron Reinach was

This same paper a few days ago claimed to have knowledge of the manner in which Baron De Reinach spent the hours preceding his death. quantity of poison. The poison was taken at exactly 1 o'clock in the morning.

If it should prove true as hinted by the reports in the Parisian press that Reinach was murdered to get him out of the way, a greater mine than has yet been set will explode under the feet of the Panama conspirators.

De Reinach long occupied a position of considerable distinction in French society. The firm of which he was a member, MM. Kohn, Reinach et Cle, was founded by Baron Samuel Kohn early in the century, and until recently was carried on by the founder's nephew, M. Edward Kohn, and his partner, Baron de Reinach, who were brothers-in-law. They married each a daughter of Charlotte von Embden, the aged sister of Heinrich Heine and the liebes Lottchen of the Heine letters which have just been published. Baron de Reinach, who was born in 1826, was a son of Baron Adolf von Reinach of Frankfort, and brother of Paron Joseph de Reinach and Count Oscar de Reinach, who adopted the surname of Cesac on his marriage with the heiress of that family.

The Reinach family has played a prominent part in public affairs in france. The nephews of the deceased Baron are among the cleverest publicists of the day. One of them, M.

Joseph Reinach, long the private secretary and confidant of Gambetta, is now ell tor of the Republique Prançaise. Another is M. Salomon Reinach, the eminent Hellenist, and a third is M. The-odor Reinach, the learned Semitologist, and secretary of the Societe des Etudes Juives. The family was ennobled by King Victor Emmanuel in 1868 for its services to Italian finances, and their barony was recognized in Germany in 1867.

Baron de Reinach was a graceful writer, and one of his last works was an operetta, which he composed in collaboration with M. Pedro Gailhard, and which is now in re are out, and are occasioning no little comment among Gen. Gooding's former associates in this city. The book contains 400 pages and is not on the lines the title would seem to indicate, being largely devoted to the personal affairs, principally of the heart, of the author. It was printed in Indianapolis, where Gen. Gooding has been staying for the past year with relatives. The chapter which attracted most attention in St. Louis is the one-headed, "The Great Conspiracy Against Gooding and Good Government," This would be of thrilling interest to the persons who are mentioned as arch conspirators if they were disposed to look seriously upon the effusion. After dealing at some length with the religions of the world, which he does with considerable learning, and giving his readers a detailed account, be abruptly introduces in the midst of his theological dissertation, the story of how the girl of his heart, beautiful as a dream, with the face of a madonna and the form of the Venus de Medici, was induced to marry a man she did not love, while the writer was being educated at West Point. Geu Gooding handles the plotters against his political and matrimonial aspirations with gloves off. lie says that a short time before he was appointed on the Police Board he remarked to Arthur Lee that if a man were made Vice-president of the Board and given full power by the Governor, he could make a reputation for himself which could be used as a slipping stone to the Governorship. This, he says, was construed by Lee to mean that he Gen. Gooding neither wanted the vice-presidency nor the widow—Mr. Lee. so says this false impression—for Gen. Gooding neither wanted the vice-presidency nor the widow—Mr. Lee, so says the book urged the claims of James L. Blair, who was made Vice-President of James L. Blair, who was made Vice-President of the Police Board according to Lee's programme. After this, Mr. Lee, says the author, while pretending to be his friend and trying to get him to support Blair for Governor, entered into a conspiracy with the latter against him. The ex-Police Commissioner then goes on to say that Blair and Lee manufactured lies about him and sent them to the widow, whom he calls Grace, but she paid no attention to them. With a view to preventing him from marrying the widow or becoming Vice-President of the Police Board the author says that they committed

HOW LEE TAKES IT.

Arthur Lee, the well known lawyer who is charged with all these crimes, seems to be having a good deal of quiet amusement over Gen. Gooding's remarkable work. He considers it unworthy serious attention and will not take the trouble to deny the statements of the author or resort to any measures for preventing the circulation of the book or obtainining redress. When seen by a POST-DISFATCH reporter this morning his face wore an amused expression and he could not be got to discuss the matter seriously. "It isn't necessary to say anyything about this matter," he said. "We all know Gen. Gooding. I have known him for years and have observed the development of his eccentricities for a long time. Why, he used to go about here armed with a revolver and knife to protect himself from the murderous plots of Blair and Lee. He would walk into the office of a lawyer to whom he had never before spoken on the subject and ask if he had brought that suit yet." "What suit? the lawyer would ask." "Why that suit I told you of against Jas. L. Blair and Arthur Lee. ""You did," the General would excitedly exclaim, 'but you don't want to bring it because you have entered into a plot against me. I told you to bring suit for damages, and you have neglected it for that purpose." "The General would mame various amounts as the damages he wanted, and of course no attention was paid to him. Many lawyers will tell you of his visits to them. He went around saying that I climed over his transom, and a lot more of such rubbish, which I think is not worth mentioning. All the rich widows were in love with him, according to his statements."

James L. Blair refused to discuss the affair. He said to the reporter: "I have just read an account of Gen. Gooding's book. I have nothing to say about it. The veil of charity should be drawn around any man so unfortunate as this thing shows Gen. Gooding to be.

FARSONS AND THE LENDERS.

Treasurer Parsons is putting the moneylenders to a deal of trouble. Jim Harrison, the triend of Eddie Foerstel, said to-day that he thought the two money-lenders for whom he and the assistant treasurer acted as agents would lose $3,000 or $4,000 of their last month's loans by the attitude of Treasurer Parsons. When Eddie Foerstel managed the affairs of the office all that the money lenders had to do was to present the order of a clerk for his saiary or hand over the little red ticket of a street department employe, and the money would be paid. As soon as Mr. Harrison recovered from his grief over the death of Eddie he began to look out for the loans he had made on December salaries and found, to his dismay, that Treasurer Parsons refused point-blank to honor the orders from the borrowers, taking the ground that the money must be paid direct to the men whose names were on the payroll. As soon as this got noised around the City Hall men who had given the lenders orders began to drop into the Treasurer's office and collect the money due them, after which they snapped their fingers at Mr. Harrison and his two principals. "If I can't stop this soon, we'll all lose every dollar we lent out," said Mr. Harrison and his two principals. "If I can't stop this soon, we'll all lose every dollar we lent morning, as he was waiting with doleful face for Cluy Mr. Harrison and his two principals. C. G. WHITE PARDONED. WATERTOWN, N. Y., Dec. 27.—Gov. Flower, who is spending the Christmas holidays in this city, yesterday issued a pardon and re stored to full citizenship Cumberland G. White, who was recently sentenced to two years' imprisonment on Blackwell's Island.

Mr. White has been for many years a member of the New York Stock Exchange. He lost two bonds to the value of $2,000 belonging to a female customer and falling to pay the balance due her, he was adjudged guilty of constructive larceny. About a month ago he was sentenced to two years' imprisonment, as above stated. The application for his release was made to the Governor in person by Deacon S. V. White, supported by a petition signed by the entire New York Stock Exchange. Gov. Flower endorsed the petition with the statement that the punishment having been excessive and because from an intimate knowledge of the way the business was done it was evident that no larceny was intended.

E. Gentry & Co., H. C. Fisher thad W. J. Lipscomb of Checotah. During several days' high water he kept them herded between the rivers and he borrowed over $100 on them from Messrs. Belle, Moore, Jim Johnson and others, who supposed that he was passing through with the cattle, and that they belonged to him. He drove two cars of them into Checotah some days ago, shipped them to Kansas City and sold them before the theft was detected. He left three other cars here to secure the

The new pumps have been working for several weeks and the trustees could not imagiae why the supply did not give better satisfaction. They started an investigation, which resulted in finding that several large manufacturing firms and numerous private families had secretly connected their burners to the lines. Two of the factories used as much as 500 families would need. Two of the thieves are members of the Municipal Reform Committee, which is now forming a code designed to give the city better government, and one is a well-known city official. LATING A CORNER-STONE.

NEW ERA IN THE HISTORY OF AN EPISCOPAL

NEW YORK, Dec. 27 .- To-day, St. John's era of its history. At 3 p. m., the ceremony of laying the corner-stone of this great atructure, which is to be a type of the achievements and aspirations of the Protestant Episcopal Church in the United voices will add impressiveness and beauty to the services. A number of public men. Mayor Grant and city officials, the Governor and staff, have been invited to the ceremony. Many bishops and other clergymen of the Protestant Episcopal Church will be present. The services will be found in a temporary wooden structure on the site of the corner stone. This is of Quincy granite, 4 feet inches long and wide, and 2 feet 1½ inches thick. In the stone beneath it will be a space for the copper box which is to contain records and mementoes.

A large burgee, given by lars, Bowdoin,

Mattie Chappin Morris, Jamos H. Ricketson and Franz Remmertz.

At 2 p. m. the procession, which is to escort Bishop Potter to the platform, will leave the asymment the following order: Marshal Thomas P. Browne, musicians, trombones and cornets: chuyeb Choral Society, under direction of Richard Henry Warren; students of General Theological Seminary, trustees of Columbia College, trustees of St. Luke's Hospital, clergy in charge of the Rev. Dr. Thomas Robinson Harris; George L. Heines of Heines & Lafarge, the architects; David H. King, Jr., builder; trustees of the Cathedral, bishops, Bishop Potter. The sermon will be preached by Bishop Doane of Albany.

The cathedral will include seven 'Chapels of Tongues,' in each of which there will be a service at least every Sunday in seven different languages. In its antional aspect the cathedral project commands attention on account of its aim and scope. Already without any public appeal and with very little individual solicitation, over $1,00,000 has been subscribed or bequeathed to the cathedral.

One of the first and largest subscriptions' individual solicitation, over $1,000,000 has been aubscribed or bequeathed to the cathedral.

One of the first and largest subscriptions was made by a Presbyterian.

The cathedral is not patterned after those of England or the continent, but is to be built in accordance with American needs and ideas. The sittings in the cathedral are to be forever free. The bishop of New York is to be President of its chapter. The land for its site was purchased for $50,000 and has since doubled in value. The cast of theistructure is estimated at $5,000,000 to $10,000,000. The foundations are laid in solid rock. The entire structure will measure $29 feet in length and will have three square towers, the main tower being at the junction of the nave and transepts.

The ceremonies this afternoon were witnessed by an immense throng which filled and surrounded the temporary cruciform tent over the foundation. Invitations had been sent to the President of the United States and his Cabinet, the Governor and his staff, Mayor Grant and Mayor-elect Gilroy, bishops of the Episcopal Church and many senators.

THE MIRACLE WINDOW.

the Mystery. CANTON, Minn., Dec. 27 .- Since the third glass has been inserted in the little window of the Catholic church here great excitement prevalls. It is American plate and perfectly clear as seen from the Inside. On the outside one can plainly see that it is tinged, and although all the faithful can see the distinct though air the lainful can see the distinct forms the writer was unable to see more than three smoky streaks. The same parties who were interested in the discovery and reporting, of the first phenomena were interested in inserting the hird. It is thought strange that the pictures should remain in every glass removed and appear in a different form each time. A photographer took a picture of the window and the same are being sold by order of the pastor. There seems to be no way to settle the excitement other than to appoint a committee of skeptics to procure a glass and blace it in the window and let their decision be final, or organize a new Church Committee in the parish who are not believed to be deceptive or put stained glass in every window of the building. Four or five were in favor of originating the first curlosity and on their shoulders rests the responsibility to prove that what they hold so dear is supernatural. As long as they are allowed to play their own game and suggest investigation it is thought to be proven that honesty is not at the bottom of the effort to find the truth. A new church committee is spoken of as a resort to check further excitement in the matter. A man from West Superior has cleared the snow from a couple of jots here that he paid three prices for, and is at work building a hotel with the thermometer 30 below and golfing down. forms the writer was unable to see more the wherewithal to purchase pleasure. The barnacles, which is another name for the typical city employes, did not find the present Christmas quite so happy as many others in their past official careers. This was due to an unexpected lack of the wherewithal to purchase holiday pleasures. The barnacle is not in the habit of laying by for a rainy day and a call for the undoing of purse strings late in the month always reveals a distressing vacuum. This is why the approach of the holiday season begets nervousness among the rank and file of city employes, a feeling that has generally been relieved in past years through the generosity of the City Trensurer in advancing them their salaries on Christmas eve, or nearly a week before they were due. Big hearted Mike Foerstel fixed the boys up all right last year and every one looking ahead viewed the approaching holidays with much complaisance this year until the Foerstel trouble came and dashed their hopes to earth. When Mr. Parsons assumed the reins of office he was forthwith sounded on the question of Christmas salaries and announced very plainly that the money would not be paid until it was due. Now that the empty handed Christmas has come and gone another snag loomes up in that the first of the month fall on Sunday, and the day following is a holiday. Everyone thought that salarles would be paid next Saturday, but the barnacles' cup of bitterness was filed to the brim when it was made known this morning that employes would be imbursed for their services on Tuesday. The boys argued that If money was due at Mr. Parsons' bank next Sunday it would have to be paid on Saturday and they thought they were entitled to the benefit of the analogy, but there was none among them brave enough to attempt to argue finance with Mr. Charles Parsons. present Christmas quite so happy as many others in their past official careers. NOT A MILE OF RAILROAD. An Illinois County Far Behind the Hillsboro, Dec. 27.—The county of Cal-houn has offered a bonus of $60,000 for the or individual within the limits of the county, with the intention of using it as a means of passenger and freight traffic, there being at present not a railroad in the county. The offer has, according to reliable information, caused the Jacksonville Southeastern Railroad to make preparations to enter Calhoun from Columbiana on the north. The Blux Line is said to have for some time considered the question of building into Hardin, the county seat of Calhoun, and only the want of money has prevented it. It is now preparing plans to cross the Illinois River to Hardin in the spring. Calhoun is one of the richest agricultural counties in the state, and the traffic is considered as being worth a small fortune to any railroad, but ewing to the bad route over which a road will have to pass no company has as yet seriously considered the question until the present. The people of the vicinity believe now that the two lines mentioned above will make a lively fight for the $60,000 and the traffic to follow.

AGAINST WARREN.

The Exchange Wins the Suit Brought by the Speculator.

THE EXCHANGE'S RESPONSIBILITY FOR EMPLOYES.

A Case Remanded on the Ground That the Agreement From Which It Originated Was an Attempt to Compound a Felony-Other Decisions by the Court of Appeals-Divorces Granted.

The case of John A. Warren against the ants' Exchange for $175 damages was ad in the Court of Appeals this morning n favor of the Exchange. This case involved in important principle, although the amount f money in controversy was trifling. in Call the official reporter of the Merchants' nge made an error in recording a sale heat to Mr. Warren, it appearing on the rd that he had bought it at one price, then in fact he had bid a lower figure. Mr. claiming that the Exchange was responsible for the acts of its agents. The Exchange took the ground that the reporter was also the agent of the persons involved in the deal, and that therefore the Exchange was not responsible. This view was sustained by the case of Adolph Janis et al. vs. Kate Roentgen and Cuno J. Roentgen.

The facts in the case, as developed by the testimony in the Circuit Court, were that Cuno J. Roentgen was an employe of the plaintiffs who were in the dry goods business, and while so employed was charged with embersiement by his employes. Kate Roentgen was the mother of Cuno, and paid the plaintiffs $1,500 in cash and gave her promissory note for $1,500 more upon an agreement that her son was not to be prosecuted and the embezziement concealed. When the note fell due it was not paid, and suit was brought on it. In the Circuit Court a judgment was given against her for the amount of the note and an appeal taken.

The Court of Appeals reverses this judgment and remands the case for a new trial on the ground that the agreement on which the note was given was one to compound a felony, and hence no action could be brought on it.

A LOCAL OPTION CASE.

The judgment of the lower court was also eversed in the case of the State of Missouri gainst Lou C. Bevans, an appeal from Lewis Bevans was a druggist and convicted under he local option laws for selling liquor on a shysician's prescription.

At the trial evidence was introduced to how that the physician's motive in giving he prescription was bad inasmuch as the quor was not prescribed as a medicine.

The Court of Appeals holds that the notives of the physician could have no searing on the defendant's case as he was not supposed to know whether his motives were good orbad. The conviction was accordingly set aside.

All day yesterday and to-day the successful contestants in the Post-Dispatch Christmas Coupon Contest called at the office to claim prizes. Every one wore a smile of pleasant anticipation, which broadinto one of supreme delight as the brand new gold and silver pieces were banded to them. Beyond all question 102 hearts have been gladdened beyond measure this happy Christmastide. Even some of the unsuccessful ones were on hand, and felt the burden of their own disappointment considerably lightened as they watched the laughrivals received their rewards. The large pile of coins at the cashier's desk melted rapidly away under the constant drain, until now but w of the prizes remain to be paid. Some of the contestants have not yet claimed their dues. A few are away spending their holidays with their friends, and are content to let their prize remain where it is for the present, secure in the knowledge that it will be safe until they wish to claim it. To those living out of town the amount will be mailed as soon as the rush is over. Others who have not received their rizes can do so at any time they make a call

She hopes soon to come down on the tricycle she intends to buy with a part of the money and tender her thanks in porson. Her mother says that a happler girl than little Anna Belie, could not, at present, be found anywhere in the world. She will never forget what she calls her Post-DISPATCH Christmas.

Almee L. Frey, President of a club which secured one of the $25 prizes, sent the following letter of acknowledgment:

St. Louis, Dec. 26, 1892. To the Post- Dispatch: Allow me to thank you in the name of the Post-DISPATCH Coupon Club, for the $25 in gold awarded to me in the contest, as their Pesident. Yours truly, AIMEE L. FREY, President, 928 Morrison avenue.

No idea could be conveyed of the thanks expressed verbally, as the rewards were handed out. Every one wanted to say or do something to show their gratitude, but the little set speeches that many of them had prepared slipped from their memory as they caught sight of the coins, which were all their own. "Thank you very much indeed," was all they could say, but the look that accompanied their words was eloquence itself. All were satisfied and all were pleased. Not a single expression of envy of those who had gained larger prizes than themselves was heard. Everyone realized that those ahead of themselves had fairly earned the larger reward.

THE SUNDAY COUPON CONTEST. Corrected List of Winners to Be Published Next Sunday. The awards in the SUNDAY POST-DISPATCE coupon contest will not be made until next Monday. A contestant questions the correct ness of the judges' award, as published yesterday. It is probable that an error was made on the second prize, and to carefully investigate this will require time. Like all other contests conducted by the Post-Dispatch perfect fairness is assured. Every claim will be investigated with the greatest care. The smallest tot in the lists will have his rights protected as securely as the son or daughter of a judge or a lawyer.

The corrected list of winners in the SUNDAY POST-DISPATCH coupon contest will be published on next Sunday and the prizes will be awarded on next Monday.

A Daring Highway Robbery—An Unknown Man Apparently Assaulted.

Daniel O. Chopin, a brother of Capt. S. P. Chopin, was held up and robbed last night on Tenth street, near the Helm Brewery. While on his way from the city to his home in Kurrus place he was stopped by three men, one of whom held his horse while the others stood on either side of his buggy and covered him with pistols. He was forced to alight and was releved of all the money he carried with him, which was but a small. sum, less than $10. After robbing him the footpads allowed Mr. Chopin to resume his journey unhindered. The robbers were disguised, and, according to Mr. Chopin's statements, had their identity very cleverly concealed.

Late last night a police officer found an unknown man lying on the street in an unfrequented place on the island and conveyed him to the Central Station. The man was unconscious and appeared to have been assaulted with a bludgeon, as he had an uzly wound on his head. A physician was summoned to dress the wound and the injured man was well taken care of at the station, but he remained unconscious. To-day he was sent to St. Mary's Hospital. As the man has not spoken a word since he was found, the police have been unable to learn anything about him. He seems to be a stranger here. He is in a critical condition and may not recover.

Frank Queen and Louisa Washington, both colored, were arrested by the police to-day on a warrant for unlawful cohabitation. W. S. Three peas (P. P. P.) represent Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets. They are not like the old-fashioned pills. Bed to take, and bad to have taken. Inefficient, too. Try something better. With Pleasant Pellets the benefit is lasting. They cleanse and regulate the liver, stomach and bowels. Taken in time, they prevent trouble. In any case, they care it.

And they cure it easily; they're mild and gentle, but thorough and effective. There's no disturbance to the system, diet or occupation. One tiny, sugar-coated Pellet for a laxative—three for a cathartic. Sick and Ellious Hendache, Constipation, Indigestion, Ellious Attacks, and all derangements of the liver, stomach and bowels are promptly relieved and permanently cured.

They're purely vegetable, perfectly harmless, the smallest, and the ensiest to take—but besides that, they're the cheapest pill you can buy, for they're guaranteed to give satisfaction, or your money is returned. You pay only for the good you get. This is true only of Dr. Pierce's medicines.

DAILY AND SUNDAY, 15 CENTS A WEEK.

THOSE Republicans who don't want be Democrats, but who are weary of the bad management of their party will now have an opportunity to join the Populists, who are about to reorganize themselves into a new party. A man must go somewhere. The man without a party is almost as unhappy as the man without a country.

DEMOCRATIC enthusiasm should not be rudely chilled, but isn't there a little too much Baby Ruth nonsense this Christmas time? Is there any good reason why the Clevelands should be bored with a lot of jumping-jacks and Noah's arks and cards from people they don't know, and probably don't want to know? Even the man who is greater than his party (if there is such a man) and his family have a right to a little privacy.

THE unanimity with which the enemies of home rule have seized upon the Dublin explosion as proof that the Liberal policy is a failure may be taken as a strong proof that no friend of home rule was connected with the crime. The explosion is merely evidence that either Irish fools or English rascals are taking desperate measures to check the peaceful solution of the Irish problem for which Mr. Gladstone and his associates are working.

OFFICE-SEEKING CRAZE.

One of the most curious "kinks" in the American character is the passion for public office. The classic story of the man who applied for the English mission, was refused a fanitorship and compromised on a pair of Lincoln's old trousers is familiar o everybody. There is more truth than fiction in it. Many an applicant for a Cabinet position has aimed high in order to be sure of hitting at least the Timbuetoo consulship or the post-office at the 'corners,'' The itch for public employment is chronic, but always acute. To get an office is the height of the small politician's ambition. It does not matter nuch, however, whether it be great or small so long as it is bestowed by Uncle

This craze is curious because, except in the case of a few very important positions, public employment does not hold out inducements of profit and honor equal to that offered by private enterprise. The energy used in getting a government place, the worry involved in keeping it and the fear always before the officeholder's eyes of "clean sweep" are certainly not alluring features. The salaries and emoluments are less, as a rule, than what can be earned with ordinary industry in the clerical service of banks, railroads or mer- van does not perceive that the feminine purcantile establishments where the tenure is permanent or during good behavior.

And yet men have been known to give up lucrative positions in order to enter the Government service at half the money. Since the election last month applications for positions in the departments have been more frequent than at any time since the great rush and "clean out" four years It certainly cannot be accounted for on to the office-seekers.

EUSINESS AND POLITICS.

There was pleasant holiday reading in yesterday's POST-DISPATCH for the citizens public. The trouble with Mexico at pres- of St. Louis. The resume of the year's work showed substantial gains in nearly every branch of trade and manufacture in the city. Nowhere could any falling-off crease was very large. This advance was accomplished, too, in the face of unfavorable and even depressing conditions, the results of which were manifest elsewhere.

> The statistics of local trade and manufacture confirm the visible indications which are manifest on every side, that St. Louis is prospering and is growing more rapidly than ever before in her history. The city is making giant strides forward The growth is permanent. The wealth produced and gained by industrial and commercial activity is largely invested at home. The permanent results to the city are found in a host of manufacturing plants, fine business structures and residences ranging from the comfortable cottage to the palatial mansion. With solid foundation to build upon the prospect is bright for continued growth at an increasing rate. The future of St. Louis, bound up in this and surrounding States New trade outlets have just been opened

In the light of the facts, the charge that the business men of St. Louis are slow and unprogressive falls to the ground. The proof that they are wide awake and energetic is found in the record of material growth. Only in one respect are they slothful and derelict. The interest of each is well taken care of, but the interest of all is neglected. While thrift advances private enterprise, indifference injures the public good. The increasing wealth made by industry and prudence which is turned into the Treasury for the common weal is squandered, misapplied and stolen. This great and growing city is hampered and disgraced by dishonesty and inefficiency in administration of St. Louis would be in ping with its character and needs. I izens would neglect private business for public business one day in four years the benefits of the remainder of their work would be enormously increased.

THE recent dynamite outrage has been eized upon with avidity by the Tory organs of England, who look upon it as proof positive that a conciliatory course is unwise and fatal, that Ireland and the Irish must be still further oppressed. This logic is peculiarly Tory and often appears even without the provocation of dynamite. 'The majority of men are a bad lo and would do mischief if they were given their liberty; hence the wise and good minority must keep the bad ones down with a strong hand." This is in effect what s heard in England, Ireland and America from the aristocracy and plutocracy. The truth is, however, men have proved themelves worthy of every measure of liberty they have won. They have seldom abused it; and the Irish dynamiters themselves will not be inclined to violence if relieved of the bonds which chafe them.

THE gentlemen who so earnestly depre ate a session of Congress immediately after the inauguration on the ground that consideration of legislative matters would interfere with the performance by the President of "execution duties" forget that Mr. Cleveland is now making up his Cabinet and selecting appointees for the more important positions. These can be referred to the Senate and got out of the way in a few days. As Mr. Cleveland never was much of an office broker, it is safe to say that he will be disposed to let the minor offices "slide" for a while until really great matters are settled. The more the extra session is discussed the mor clear it becomes that it is not only unob ectionable but expedient and necessary.

Labor has triumphed for once. Col. Meriether Lewis Clark's wages of $125 a day are not to be reduced. There are no such hoss oig Colonel's. His home organ in Kentucky ruthfully says: "It seems a very simple thing to sit and watch which horse comes ander the wire first, but strange to say, not one man in a hundred thousand has proved imself able to do these simple things. fact is that Col. Clark is exceedingly considerate in fixing his remuneration. He might get $200 a day as easily as $125, but such is his interest in the growth of the turf that he puts the figures down low and gives other people chance to make a living. The managers of the American turf ought to be looking for another man right now who might come somewhere near filling Col. Clark's shoes in case Col. Clark, who is but mortal, should be

It would be treason to Northwestern real estate to suspect that it is ever subject to the dullness that occasionally comes on in other parts of the country.

THE law of compensation reaches city smoke. Forecaster Hammon says that the cloud of smoke hanging over the city of a quiet day is like a blanket, and keeps the place warm. The smoke-consuming agitation will have to be postponed until the mercury settles in a milder part of the thermor eter, unless some cleaner blanket is devised for keeping cold air at the proper height.

Give St. Louis Her Due.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch: nection with the World's Fair the coming year should not be neglected nor ignored. That many thousands of people, capitalists, manufacturers and home seekers, can be induced to visit St. Louis in connection with their visit to the World's Fair in Ohicago is undeniably true, if the matter is brought to their attention in the proper way.

I would suggest that the Merchants' Exchange take the business in hand and make its forthcoming annual report attractive, comprehensive and full of reliable information as to the greatness, prosperity and attractiveness of St. Louis.

Let the Exchange employ some good man to assist Mr. Morgan in this work and delay the issuance of the report a month or two if necessary to make it all that it should be. One or two thousand dollars spent in this way will return a-thousandfold.

I further suggest that the city officials be impressed with the importance of making the city clean and keeping it clean at all times, but especially during the coming apring and summer. Let's all stand up for year should not be neglected nor ignored

The plant of the William Becker company was valued at about $500,000, and that of Conrad Bros., as stated by the senior member of the firm, at $400,000. Both are partly insured. Two minutes before 6 o'clock, Gustav Tros the Trostel tannery, adjoining the burned buildings, saw the flames bursting Leather Co.'s tannery buildings and turned in the alarm over his private wires. When the companies arrived the main building of the cker plant was enveloped in flames and a general alarm was turned in. In a short time all the apparatus in the city was on hand. Fanned by a fresh southwest wind, the fire burned briskly. The firemen were seriously handicapped by the fire in the rear of the buildings, from which they were shut off by the river. The fire tug Cataract had a difficult time in plowing through the thick ice, and its progress was so slow that by the time the fire was reached the flames had gained a fatal headway. The flames leaped to the buildings of the Conrad Bros.' plant. The building was filled with firemen working on the Becker buildings. So quickly did it spread the hose at work in the upper story were cut off. Many of the firemen jumped from the windows. Beyond a few who were ruled none were severely injured save those mentioned in the list above. Mrs. Gemming Claims Her Husband Intends Leaving With Another Woman. Mrs. Annie Gemming of 1912 South Broadway called at the Prosecuting Attorney's office to-day and wanted to get a warrant against her husband, Peter Gemming. He is about 40 years old, and they have been mar-ried thirteen years. He has transferred his affections, she stated to Katle Haas of 202 Potomac street, an 19-year old girl. Her husband's of 202 Potomac street, an 19 year - old girl. Her busband' attentions to Miss Haas were the talk of the year old girl. Her busband's attentions to Miss Haas were the talk of the neighborhood, Mrs. Gemming alleged.

She went to the young woman, she said, and told her that her husband was a married man and not to have anything to do with him, but the girl, she averred, still continued to receive his attentions. Her husband left her, Mrs. Gemming claimed, some time ago, but returned about three months ago. Now, she said, she was afraid that he and Miss Haas were about to elope and she wished to prevent them.

Assistant Prosecuting Attorney Estep told Mrs. Gemming that he could not do anything for her. Any offense that her husband might have committed, he said, was condoned by the fact of her living with him. If she had reason to believe that her husband and Miss Haas were about to elope, Mr. Estep said she had better notify Recorder Hobbs not to issue a license to them if they applied for one. Mrs. Gemming said that her husband had been employed at Lemp's brewery, but had been discharged.

SUICIDES.

The Senate will select a vice-president, rolling clerk, engrossing clerk, official reporter, sergeant-at-Arms, door-keeper and chaplain. The contests for the various positions are exceedingly lively and the champions of the many didates are all at work and say they will not relax until the caucuses are over. The vice-presidency of the Senate is practi-cally conceded to Senator Virgil M. Hines of Houston, Texas Co. The speakership contest in the lower branch is between Mabrey of Ripley County and Da-vidson of Marion County, with the chances at present in favor of the former. In was one of the strongest members in the last of his apponent. The Speakership protem is expected to go to either Fogel of Schuyler or Hankins of Dunklin.

The Chief Clerkship race is livelier than ever and it may take several ballots in the caucus to determine it. The candidates are John W. Jacks of Montgomery County, Chas. L. Bowland of St. Louis and Henderson of Pike County. The last named is a relative of Gen. John B. Henderson. All three are claiming the office, which bays $5 a day while the session lasts. The chief clerk has some thirty assistants to select, and this power gives him a big pull politically. Whoever gets the office will very likely use all the pulls his position affords to boom himself for something good in a Federal way.

There are a half dozen candidates in the race for Assistant Chief Clerk, but at present sidney Roy of kalls County seems to be in the lead.

Candidates for post-offices in the county owns throughout the State are increasing at rate calculated to make the Congressme tremble. The Congressmen will be tremble. The Congressmen will be called upon to make the recommendations and they will have a time of it picking one man from a field of thirty or forty. In the little city of Lebanon, which has about three thousand population, there are no less than thirty-two candidates for the office, which pays something like $1,600 a year. Thomas Bradshaw, the editor of the Lebanon Russic, is leading the bunch. He has done excellent service for his party which many believe will now be the bunch. He has done excellent service for his party which many believe will now be rewarded. The city is in Congressman Bland's district and he is understood to be in favor of settling the contest by an electioh. In other words, he favors the plan of letting the Democrats vote for a postmaster with the understanding that the applicant who receives the highest vote will receive the indorsement.

In other towas the contests are equally interesting. Sedaila, Hannibel. Springfield, St. Joseph, Boonville. Chillicothe, Moberly and Jefferson City have big fields in the contests and they are all flooding the mails with indorsements addressed to the Congressmen who will be called upon to make the recommendations.

GORGE IN THE RIVER.

The Mississippi Will Most Probably Be Frozen Over To-Morrow. With a scarcely perceptible current and the rater only 1 foot 3 inches above low mark, Jack Frost is having an easy time with the river to-day and will have it completely frozen over by to-morrow morning.

The river above the bridge is gorged and the ferry has been abandoned. One ferry-boat, the Sam Wiggins, made two trips this the ferry has been abandoned. One ferry-boat, the Sam Wiggins, made two trips this morning after the Reliance had plowed a path for the boat and kept a clear patch of water at the foot of Vine street. About lo'clock, the Reliance and tug from the other side started down to the Chouteau avenue ferry and plowed a narrow way down the river under a high pressure of steam.

Capt. Ford of the Harbor office was on the Levee and said, "I don't see why they want to keep that water open unless it is on account of the agreement between the ferry company and the Onicago & Alton road as they have a contract to carry all their freight across and have already got judgment on their contracts.

"The river is only one foot three inches above low water on the gauge and for that reason it cannot be kept clear as the lee won't turn under when broken. If there was a faster current all the broken stuff would be turned under by the current and the open place would not freeze so fast. Nearly all the lee below the bridge is home-grown and is thickening very fast."

There are but few boats in the harbor, and most of those are ferry boats. The bigger river boats are either under the elevators south of Choquean avenue or farther down in sheltered places.

No danger is anticipated from the present gorge, as it is expected that when it does go out it will allow it to spread out below.

The river was closed for a short time last year, but did no damage to speak of, mainly from the fact that then, as now, there were very few boats in the harbor, from the fact that then, as now, there we very few boats in the harbor,

TRAINS DELAYED.

The Cold Weather Causes Late Arrivals

Cold weather has already begun to affect trains into the Union Depot. The regular trains this morning were from half an hour plained of high winds and cold weather both East and West, and said they were compelled to run cautiously. Up to three days ago the weather was mild and there were no winds. Since Sunday morning the temperature has failen at many points West and East to zero. This sudden cold, the railroad men explained this morning, caused a contraction of the rails, which made them unsafe for rapid traveling. The time lost by trains all over the country carrying passengers bound for St. Louis was added to St. Louis trains at junctions where connections were made and the presence of special holiday trains on the road also tended to delay the morning trains this morning. No accidents were reported on any of the roads this morning. On the Chicago & Alton both the Kansas City and the Chicago train were haif an hour late, the Iron Mountain train was two hours inte, also the Cannon Ball. The Clover Leaf was two and a half hours late, Air Line one hour and a half late. Big Four, Vandalis, Cairo Short Line and the Q Line trains were each one hour late.

OMAHA, Neb., Dec. 27 .- Paul Vandervoort, ex-National Commander of the G. A. R., who was recently placed at the head of the new political party organized at Memphis im-mediately after the Farmers' Alliance meeting, has given out some of the plans of that party. He is quoted in an interview as follows: The Independents have found by experience that members of other political parties join us to make public our secrets. A secret meeting was held some time since by the leaders to remedy this evil. They met at Memphis, Tenn., and decided to organize as an exclusively political order where the only test of membership should be oyalty to the principles of the People's party and no class or condition of men who vill vote the ticket will be excluded, and colitical enemies will find no means of ingress. So these gentlemen then and there proceeded to draw up a constitution and oranize a purely political order called the Industrial Legion.

"I was not present when the organization was perfected and therefore know nothing of the constitution. I very much dislike some of its provisions. I object to the military titles of the order. We have a surfeit of such titles. There is no end to erals, colonels and captains. Again, constitution provides for unior and a woman's aid corps. I think junior and a woman's aid corps. I think there should be but one object to the secret work and the lengthy ritual. I think there should be no more secrecy than is necessary to keep our working plans from the knowledge of the enemy during the campaign. If the constitution could be altered in these respects I might accept."

"What are the prospects of the order?"

"Well, I have never seen anything like it. You see those hundreds of letters? Mr. Turner, who is Adjutant-General of the order, who seeved a great many more than I have, or, who is Adjutant-General of the order, as received a great many more than I have, or all the old soldiers, both North and outh, would naturally write to the Adjutant-leneral. There are no less than 100,000 memors in the order now. There is one letter here teiling of 100 clubs in a small section oting to no into the order."

"Oh, no; not in the principles. A part of it may be left out. For my part, I think that it is foo long. There are too many eggs uhder the scose. They won't all hatch. I would be in favor of a platform demanding

NEGRO EDITORS.

STATE PRESS ASSOCIATION ORGANIZED IN

AUGUSTA, Ga., Dec. 27 .- The negro editors of Georgia have organized a State Press Association here. Twelve papers were represented at the meeting. The editors issued an address discouraging immigration and urg-ing negroes to work industriously with re-Ing negroes to work industriously with renewed vigor for the advancement of the race, and advising the cultivation of friendly feeling with the white neighbors. It points with pride to the public school system of Georgia and extends to Gov. Northern and State School Commissioner Bradwell sincere thanks for their liberal views as relates to the extension of education among negroes. Lynch law, "Jim Crow" cars and separate coaches for the races are denounced, and the abolition of the State convict lease system is demanded. Finally the address suggests that the word "negro" be given preference over "col." "negro" be given preference over "colored" and that it be spelled with a capital GAME. Washington, D. C., Dec. 27. — Speaker Orisp surprised his friends to-day by remainin the capital instead of going to New York to visit President-elect Cleveland. He refused to say when he would go to New York. There is no doubt however, that Speaker Crisp and his friends are making every possible effort to assure the President-elect that the Crisp faction in the House is friendly to Mr. Celveland and will support his policy in every way. The afti-Crisp people say that the Speaker is giving some lessons in adroit politics by renunciation of allegiance to Senator Hill.

Preparations Complete to Receive the Krupp Exhibit,

Baltimore, Md., Dec. 27 .- The Maryland iteel Co.'s enormous shear legs at the Marine Works at Sparrow's Point are nearly ready to eceive Krupp's 124-ton gun to be exhibited at the World's Fair. The hydraulic mechanism by which the shears will be worked is completed. New trestle work has been rected under the bridge of the Baltin Sparrow's Point Railroad across Bear Creek to give the structure greater strength for supporting the weight of the gun. It is said that the gun will cost nearly $500,000. Its length, eighty-seven feet, is nearly twice that of the largest gun owned in this country, which is forty-five feet long. It is said that if fired on the lake front at Chicago the concussion would be so long. It is said that if fired on the lake front at Chicago the concussion would be so great that it would shatter nearly all the window glass in Chicago. The gun will carry a ball fifteen or sixteen miles. The gun and the several pieces of smaller ordnance and armor-plate, to comprise the Krupp exhibit, will probably be brought over next month. The special cars being constructed by the Pennsylvania Rallroad Co. to carry the exhibit to Chicago will be finished and delivered at Sparrow's Point in a couple of weeks. The cars will be the largest ever built and almost entirely of iron. One of them will be placed on thirty-two unusually large and strong wheels. This will be used for transporting the 124-ton gun.

"I do not see that there is any reason in all this talk. Archbishop Kenrick has not sent any rame and the only nominations made were the three that were sent to Rome and were cabled over the night of the meeting. The selection of one of these three should be made by now and we ought to know who has been chosen by to-morrow. Then the formalities as to securing the consent of the archbishops will be gone through."

It was intimated that Archbishop Kenrick had sent a name regardless of the selection of the bishops and in advance of the time when the matter was to te submitted to the archbishops.

The Cold Wave Passing Away-Snow

The crest of the cold wave has passed St. Louis and the weather bureau predicts warmer weather. The change will not, it is expected, be great, but the thermometer will gradually and steadily rise and it is probable that to morrow the minimum will be little if at all below 2 deg. The rise in temperature is likely to be accompanied by snow, as a fall is predicted for to-night or to-morrow morning. Just how heavy this fall will be it is difficult to forecast, but it appears improbable that it will be sufficient to admit of sieghing. The cold wave which struck St. Louis Sunday night, reached its culmination on Monday morning, and has now nearly passed, has been unusually extensive, its influence being felt from the British line to Texas. It is now moving in a southeasterly direction. The lowest temperature registered within the last twenty-four hours was slightly higher than that of the preceding day, being 3.6 degs, against 2.5 degs. It is improbable that the temperature will rise sufficiently for a day or two to cause the les on the ponds to melt, and a continuance of the skating season is reasonably assured. AWARDS TO THE TEN CONTESTANTS SENDING IN CORRECT ANSWERS.

Returns Guaranteed and Prizes Offered to Want Advertisers in the Post-Dispatch-A New Contest Inaugurated, to Be Continued Each Week-How the Rewards Are Given.

For some time past a guarantee has been offered to all want advertisers in the SUNDAY POST-DISPATCH that their wants would be filled before the following Wednesday, or failadditional insertion that, an free of charge, was given in Thursday' paper. In addition to a this guarantee a blank was supplied to everyone placing "want" advertisement in the columns of the Post-Disparch on any day, commencing Dec. 19, upon which they were requested to express an opinion as to the particular "want" ad., addressed "care Post-Dis-PATCH," appearing in Sunday morning's paper, which would receive the greatest num-ber of answers. Twelve prizes were offered for the first twelve correct guesses received

From the commencement great interes was taken in this contest. Everyone realized that it was an acute test of sound judgment and coveted the prizes, not alone for their monetary value, but as a matter of pride. More than one-half of the total number of blanks, upon which the opinions must be registered, and which were supplied to every "want" advertiser, were filled out and received at this office before noon yesterday. Many hundred guesses were made, and dozens of different advertisements were chosen, as the ones which would prob ably secure the largest returns. Only ten persons were successful in picking out the following 'ad.,' which proved to be the

It saves not only the hands, but the rub, rub, rub, that tells on = the back, and the arms and all the harm from it. Think of the wear and tear that's made by a strong, healthy woman with a washboardthough she's "tired to death" after it. Then think how much better, and cheaper, and easier it is to use Pearline. Peddlers and some unscrupalous grocers will tell you,

"this is as good as " or "the same as Pearline." IT'S FALSE—Pearline is never peddled, if your grocer sends

THE ONLY MONICHOL

Dear, dear, how long ago it seems!
In fact back in the long ago,
In charmed youth's fondest, tenderest dreams,
Benest the old home's mistletce
The holly berries round and red
Shone jewel-like amid the green,
The softened waxlights overhead
Lit up the happy Christmas scene.

Home seemed the dearest enot on earth, Even then to wayward, idje boys; Whan muther sat beside the hearth And shared our griefs, our woes, our joys; What can repay the buman heart In after years for lack or hear? Remembrance more than fame or art Fills up with flowers the path we roam!

So, fathers, mothers, think of this, Your pleasure in the days gone by. When home held all of earthly biss. And never teardrop filled the eye. Make children early understand. That home's the signine they should a tore; That nowlere else in ait the fand. Comes joy like what has gone before.

Buy for the new year something good; Add inxury to comfort, ease— In articles handsome, would or wood, Something the soul and eye to please. Me Nichol will suit, if any can; His stock is far the best in town; Ho sells on his installment plan And asks but little money down.

The new year is at hand. Do not let it dawn upon he old or shabby things which you have growneary of secine around you. It will cost you ver title now, and only a trile down, to make yourse happy and comfortable. Get a "Happy New Year"

IMPORTANT.

SAN JUAN GOLD FIELD.

aggerated, is none the less entertaining. Early last June an Indian trader named had staked off claims, and the news got abroad.

Williams, it appears, had found both the placer mines and the coal. Going to Winslow, he took Mr. Lesser into his confidence, and it was decided to use the coal mine for a blind to cover the operations at the gold fields. Every man employed or allowed to go near them was sworn to absolute secrety. A trusted employe, Mr. Karl Snyder, a lawyer from Albuquerque, was sent clear around to Utah, in which Territory the mines lie, to the county seat of San Juan County, and there, under pretext of taking testimony in a land case, was made Deputy County Recorder, so that every claim could be legally entered right on the ground.

The official review of Russian markets Dec 3, says: Arrivals do not, however, reach the usual proportions, as the peasants who have suffered from the bad harvests have begun accumulating their own grain stores with the resolve not to dispose of them unless from any particularly pressing need of money. And moreover, their stocks are but scarty as they have to surrender a portion to the revenue, and another small quantum, is perhaps handed over to meet a neighbor's claim, while the portion they sow and that already sold, leaves, but a remnant for the support of their family, and thus only a triffer remains for sale in the winter and spring.

Ex-Champion Sullivan Is Again Drunk and Disorderly.

HIS CONDITION ACCOUNTS FOR HIS LATEST CHARGES.

He Treatens to Pulverize a Youth Who Called Him Johnny-McAulifie Takes s Spite Out of His Former Backer-The Daly-Fitzgerald Fight-Gossip for Turimen-Sporting News.

New York, Dec. 27. - John L. Sullivan sat at a table in the bar-room of the Vanderbill Hotel and gathered about him were a number of friends. He had just finished the afternoon performance at the Windsor Theater and was enjoying a breathing spell previous to the evening performance. The ex-champion's inhalations were frequently accompanied by draughts of brownish fluid, as a result of which his voice was thick and husky. His eyelids showed the pressing need of props. There was also a confusion of ideas and his conversation was of a rambling character. Sullivan was scheduled to take a carriage at 6:15 o'clock and drive to the Windsor Theater, and his actions at the table were interesting to ome persons connected with the play. When the ex-champion was asked if he had charged one of his backers with dosing him previous to the fight with Corbett he said: "I have no charges to make against any man. I was licked on the level and any man who squeals after a whipping is n. g. I was champion for twelve years and that was enough. I am out of it now. I'm too heavy to fight again."

Somebody suggested that if he were to rest awhile and then go to Hot Springs he would get into shape and again win the world's championship. This seemed to stir up the former gladiator's fighting spirit, and he said: "If I wanted to fight again I could get backing for any amount, from well known business men."

"You bet you could, Johnny," remarked a young man who sat back of Sullivan.
"Why called me Johnny?" asked Sullivan

"Why called me Johnny?" asked Sulffyan with a hoarse roar, as he glared at the of-fender, "bid you call me Johnny?" he cried, lurching over toward the young fel-low, who was white and trembling. "Who are you, anyway?" continued Sullivan.
"Get out of here, or I'll smash your nose.
There is one thing I won't stand, and that is to have a man call me Johnny," and Sully's ponderous fist came down on the table with a jar that knocked all the beer glasses on the

Having laid down the law regarding the manner in which he should be addressed, sullivan resumed his narrative: "We hear a great deal about this man Goddard. Say! I'll give that duck $500 if he'll come up and spar me. I could fix him in very short time, lie would not bluff me a minute. You bet when I was champion and anybody came asking for a fight, I gave it to them pretty quick. I did not keep em waiting. It is different now."

asking for a fight, I gave it to them pretty quick. I did not keep 'em waiting. It is diliteration."

Then he branched out in a story of an adventure he had with Col. McAllister at Washington. The Colonel insisted on disturbing sullivan after the actor had retired for the night. Actor Sullivan was weary and very desirous of slumbering, but managed to drag himself out of bed and throw the importunate McAllister down two flights of stairs.

'And what do you think?'' queried Sullivan. 'I got the worst end of it at that.''

At that point a young man came up and the ped Sullivan on the shoulder and said:

'Your carriage is ready.'

'Who are you?' growled John.

'Oh, I'm down at the theater,'' explained the young follow.

'Well, get down there and stay there,'' was the response. 'You come fooling around me and I'll break your teeth.''

The young man did not tarry. Sullivan was finally induced to get lato a carriage and was driven to the theater, where he got through his part of Captain Harcourt in 'The Man From Boston'' fairly well.

The result of a long talk with Sullivan showed that if he had made any charges against his backers he was not responsible for his talk.

M'AULIFFE GETS EVEN.

M'AULIFFE GETS EVEN. New York, Dec. 27 .- B. H. Benton, sport ing editor of the Boston Globe and forme backer of Jack McAuliffe, arrived in this city last Saturday from England, accompanied by Jack Haggerty, an English swimmer. Benton is now manager for Dick Burge, the English pugilist, and came here to arrange a match between him and McAuliffe. While Benton was financier for McAuliffe it appears they had some misunderstanding. Benton is looking about for a man to pit against McAuliffe and found Burge. When McAuliffe learned that his backer had thrown him over he became sore and at various times, it is said, threatened to get even. Benton and Haggerty had retired about 11:20 o'clock and were chatting for some time when a hall-boy handed Benton a card which read:

Come down stairs. I want to see you.

Benton sent word that he was in bed, but would be pleased to receive the caller in his room. McAuliffe at first refused to go upstairs, but Ed Stoddard, a man about town, who accompanied McAuliffe, urged him to accept the invitation, whereupon they went up.

Benton was sitting on the edge of the bed, ready to welcome his old friend when the pair walked into the room. McAuliffe wa ked it warning struck him a severe blow over the left arm with a heavy cane he carried, and then began to bang him right and left, stoddard stood at the door, and when Benton made an outcry be locked the door, McAuliffe, encouraged, knocked Benton upon the floor and began kicking him about the head and body. The uproar caused a commotion among the guests in the hotel and they began to flock to the room.

Policeman Fitzgibbons happened te be passing the hotel at the time and he was called. He gained entrance to the room and separated the fighter from his toy. Benton refused to enter a complaint, so the officer could do nothing but take McAuliffe from the place. Haggerty during all this time got a good distance from McAuliffe's reach. McAuliffe then turned his attention to him, and picked up a chair with which to strike him, whereupon Haggerty pleaded that "he had done nothing." McAuliffe then dropped the chair and left the room. After he had gone Benton feebly picked himself up and looked himself over. He found that his left arm was badly cut, both eyes discolored and his forehead swollen. When seen he said that he did not expect the onslaught and McAuliffe's act was the act of a coward. McAuliffe, he said, was sore because he had refused to back him and he (Benion) knew all his weak points in the ring. McAuliffe, it is said, was under the influence of liquor.

DALY KNOCKS OUT FITZGERALD.

DALY KNOCKS OUT FITZGERALD. The Daly brothers again demonstrated their ability to pull off a pugilistic event in the most approved fashion yesterday. The event took place near Florissant, Mo., in a well-heated amphitheater. About 350 spectators took advantage of the holiday to jourtators took advantage of the hollday to journey out to the meeting. The clans gathered at Sportsman's Park which was announced as the place of meeting and from there went out to the designated place via the St. Louis & Suburban cars. The entertainment commenced with a six-round sparring bout between Harry Sharp, the well-known local lightweight, and Bill Lynott. Both showed much cleverness, and the affair was called a draw. Sharp then went a few rounds with his instructor, Char-

Bill Lynott. Both showed much cleverness, and the affair was called a draw. Sharp then went a few rounds with his instructor, Chard ley Daly, which was quite on the give and take order.

At 7:10 o'clock the event of the evening was called. Johnny Daly of St. Louis and Wm. Fitzgerald of Galveston, Tex., were to go to a finish. Daly tipped the beam at 162 pounds and his opponent was seven pounds lighter. Lem McGregor was agreed on for referee and the men went at each other. The men put up a rattling fight for four rounds, Fitzgerald surreling fight for four rounds, Fitzgerald surreling fight for four rounds, Fitzgerald surreling for wind. Fitzgerald started to rush and eighth rounds. Then opened up the ninth in hurricane fashion. They went at each other hammer and tongs all over the ring. Fitzgerald for one moment lowered in ghim with terrific force on the peak of the ching him with terrific force on the pea that Mr. O. H. P. Belmont, the youngest son of the late August Belmont, will go actively upon the turf next season and will have a limited stable of horses. He has three youngsters which are very highly spoken of, and it is his desire to have a stable which will be successful in competing for the classic prizes of the turf. Young Mr. Belmont will have the old colors made so popular by his father, and everybody will be glad to see the maroon jacket and red sash and cap once more to the front. The coming to the turl of men like Mr. Belmont is a promise that there will be fewer scandals and more races truly run. It could always be said of the elder Mr. Belmont that his horses were never run unless they had a chance to win, and the general knowledge of this fact was keenly appreciated by the run of turi-goers. AT EAST ST. LOUIS.

Notwithstanding the fact that the ther mometer was almost below zero, a goodsized crowd spent yesterday afternoon at the course across the river. Two favorites, the same number of second choices and a wellplayed 3 to 1 shot were success-The track was frozen hard the sport was hardly above and the sport was hardly above the ordinary. Frank Phillips was backed down from 2 to 1 to 8 to 5 to win the opening scramble, which, however, was captured by the second choice. The hajor, who closed at 4 to 1. Lonnie B. was the favorite for the next event, opening at 3 to 2, and closing at 2 to 1. After making most of the running Lonnie won by ohe length. May Curl, another favorite, who closed at 2 to 1, was successful in the third race by one and a half lengths.

successful in the third race by one and a half lengths.
Liberty Bell was first choice, for the handicap, having been backed down from 2 to 1 to 3 to 2. Oakview, who opened and closed at 3 to 1, however, won easily by about one length. Wild Sunflower was backed down from 3 to 2 to even money to win the closing scramble. Guilty and Little May were equal second choices at 4 to 1. After showing the way all around Little May won by one length, in the order named, heads apart. TESTERDAY'S WINNERS ELSEWHERE.

ball. As neither of them showed up, a match was arranged between him and Joe Deffry, to be played Sunday, Jan. 8, at 3 p. m., best two out of three will win, and all serving to be done from the ace line. A close and exciting contest is looked for.

Hand ball is taking on a boom recently and soveral new players are showing marked progress. Faul McSweeney, Joe Stewart, Harry Abrams, 8. Barnes, Cameron and the Ghios are among the new crop of players coming to the front. Eddie Von der Ahe, Cass Webb, Geo. Baick, Joe Deffry, Allan Whittemore, John Haughton and Geo. Reicheif are giving considerable attention to the game of racquets. A tournament between these would bring out the beauties of the game and settle the question who is the club's champion.

BILLIARDS.

There is little doubt in the minds of Chicago billiard experts that Ives-young as he is-is most expert billiardist in the world to-day, says a windy City authority. He is very anxsays a Windy City authority. He is very anxious to get on a match with Vignaux, who recently met Schaefer, and will offer the Frenchman all sorts of inducements to meet him. He has challenged Vignaux to play a 3,000-point match for $2,500,500 points to be made each night. Ives will go all the way to Paris to get this match. If it is arranged he will try to get on a return match for Chicago, but will not insist upon it.
